“ My Grandmother was the most understanding, tolerant, accepting, and loving person I will ever know in this lifetime. She loved everyone no matter their differences. I'll forever hold Holiday memories at Grandmas dear to my heart. Making her take us to Taco Bell even though she couldn't stand it. Calling her to pick us up when we'd think it was a good idea to skip the bus and walk home from high school. Polka dancing in the kitchen. Playing drums on all of the pots and pans. Most of all the way she used to trick me into letting her wash my face. I will always be her sunshine even though SHE was the sunshine for so many in her life. Rest peacefully Grandma.

“ I'll always remember spending the night at grandmas and she would let me watch Nightmare on elm street and let me go through her junk drawer. Grandma was so loving and cooked a hillbilly breakfast like nobody could. Rest In Peace grandma. Love you.

“ Church services were always special when I could speak to Elsa and Alex. She always had such a great smile and a hug that lasted and was heartfelt. I am sorry for your loss but I am happy for her life she shared with so many wonderful people, her family. Thoughts and prayers go out to you all.

Thank you Mom

For always having my back and being the loving, caring person you always was to your family and friends. Thank you for the love of music and guitar lessons when I was younger and loved to watch you play and sing at the dining room table. Rest in peace Dear Mother.

Nothing beats the first time I met Elsa!!!

She was so kind told me as long as I loved her son she'd love me. Also have very fond memories of our road trip to the east coast to meet my family. Love you Elsa
