“ I cannot even picture my lovely cousin without her trademark smile. I was honored to be the flower girl at her wedding and had a front row seat to watching her raise her beautiful family over the years. I remember watching her get a Thanksgiving meal ready with her mom one year in particular. She was wearing a flowered dress that swirled around her knees as she laughed with Aunt Joyce in the kitchen. She easily moved between the tasks at hand and giving attention to her small children playing in the next room--all the time looking so happy and kind. I thought that day that she was one of the most beautiful ladies I had ever seen, and as a child, i was always a bit star struck around her:) I agree with Aunt Pam. Very rarely was I ever around Nancy when i did not hear her silvery laugh ringing out. Her love for her family was her trademark characteristic, and she lived with a contagious joy that I will never forget.

“ Laughter...laughter is my most fond memory of our dear sweet Nancy. When I was blessed with her presence, I was always amazed with her true love of, God,family,friends.
When she was a little girl,about the age of 11, her grandmother; Nore, and her uncle Jack, stayed with us in Amarillo for a few days. At that time our dryer had broken and I was hanging our washed clothes on the clothes line in our back yard. Joyce, her mama, called me when they had returned home to Michigan. Joyce was laughing. She said Nancy had told her that we were very poor and did not have very much. But the clothes hanging on the line outside was very odd to her.
God has gained another angel. I love you.
Tom,Jennifer,Micheal, we all love you.
