“ I grew up next door to the Haltunnens, and have so many great memories of Mrs H. She was kind and generous, funny and playful, and worked so hard for her family and others. Now that I'm grown, I know how many obstacles she faced and how many barriers she had to overcome to rise in her profession and give the level of care to patients that she thought they deserved. Virginia and Mel were both wonderful people, and though I miss the, I am happy they are together again. Be well Andy and Eric; your parents are at rest now.

“ Mrs Haltunen lived next door to my family on blunk street in Plymouth. I loved her and mr Haltunen because they were so kind to us and they were always there for us. Mrs H always made us laugh! I remember when she was a nurse AND going to school plus raising her kids and she always included us in family events! She was busy but she made sure to make time for her neighbors! I remember she always had us over for happy New Years and of course she made up north pasties!!! Mmm good. I also remember her stories of growing up in Jerome Arizona when her dad was working in the copper mines. Years later I moved to Arizona and I visit Jerome all the time because I live about 30 minutes from that town. I asked her where was her house and she told me. So every time I go to Jerome I always look for it. I gave her mom (who us kids called Grandma Oja) a bit of copper from Jerome and she was so grateful !! I'm so happy I connected with them in my later life!! I'm happy Mel and Virginia are together in heaven. I am blessed to have had them in my life. Eric and Andy I am sending you prayers. Love from Jackie. Aka. Saint Cement Feet!!!

“ We always looked forward to Virginia and Mel coming up to Bootjack. Their smiles and positive attitude were always a joy to be around. Virginia took her time to teach our Betsy how to use a loom. She was always donating her rag rugs she made to the fire Dept for our fundraisers. She was a very talented, special, gentle lady. I can just imagine how happy she is to be reunited with Mel. Love and hugs to you. Our deepest sympathy Ron & Sally
