“ I'd already posted this in another forum, but I'm committed to keep posting memories of this sweet and hilarious boy (he ran XC with my son, and my son is Henry's best friend):

*I still laugh thinking of how we'd sometime drive the Styron boys to early morning XC meets. Adam would often fall asleep, as it was EARLY and the other boys would just point at him and refer to it as "Adam's powering down".*

We still use that phrase.

“ My best memory of Adam is from parkrun 285. March 24, 2018 I followed Adam for most of the winter course. As we made the final turn for home, down the east lot, I finally caught him. I heard him say "you got it, my leg is hurt".

"I don't believe you" I replied and pushed past him. He reappeared at my side. I repeated "I don't believe you" and pushed harder. He reappeared at my side. "I don't believe you" more of a gasping yell this time and I laid it all out.

I did 18.7mph and the amazing young man with the "hurt leg" still beat me. And afterward he simply and politely said "you ran really well Mr. Dancy".

I did Adam, but you were the best. You really were. You will be missed.
