“ I was fortunate to know Al from a recruiter's perspective. I began a dialogue with Al during his fourteen years at Grede, from 1977 to 1991, where he progressed from plant Technical Director, to Group Technical Director - Ductile Iron, to Corporate Technical Director. He was so highly regarded, even in that era a leading voice in ductile iron foundry. In 1991 Al made the decision to pursue other opportunities, and I was able to open the door for him at Intermet, working for Bob Warrick as Director of Development. I of course appreciated Al's intelligence, and his significant contribution to the foundry industry. But, what I appreciated the most was Al's welcoming and inclusive style. As a headhunter, I've often been the person everyone wants to know but many don't want to admit it. Al, though, everytime I met him welcomed me as an old friend. He and I had dinner together in 2017, and he shared a funny experience surrounding his move from Grede to Intermet. If he had ever told me it before, I had forgotten it. But, it made him laugh, even twenty-five years later.

“ My heartfelt condolences to Renuga and the rest of the family. Al was a great mentor and took me under his wings when I moved to Milwaukee. His encouragement, guidance, and support were very valuable and highly appreciated. I had the honor to make a few joint presentations at conferences with Al. His energy and enthusiasm to improve metal processing science and technology provided an inspiration for those of us who followed in his footsteps. May God give peace to his soul and my prayers are with the surviving family members.

“ I knew AI for most of my career in metal casting. AI was a true gentleman. He was always willing to share his vast knowledge and understanding. I happened to give a keynote talk at WMU on Thursday, where I showed a slide with material from one of AI's numerous papers, mentioning how he advanced our understanding and his participation with various organizations. Upon sitting down and checking emails I saw a note from a colleague about AI's passing. He will be missed.

“ Al was a good friend and the best of Metallurgists in the industry. Those of us with math backgrounds called him Al Squared. He was a very kind man and helped anyone that needed his advice. He will be missed. Joe Planson -Citation Foundry.

“ Al and I have been metallurgical "brothers of different mothers" for over thirty years. We shared so many technical and processing discussion items over those years. As we entered our retirement years, we would often talk about our careers, our mutual foundry friends, and the value of family. I recall a time when I met Al here in Naperville at his daughter's home. I was driving to Milwaukee for some sort of Association meeting. Al and I made the 90 mile drive together and had the greatest of "road trips" one could imagine. I will miss him tremendously. All of my best to his entire family. May his soul rest in peace and may perpetual light shine upon his soul.

“ My dear friend Alagarsamy,

You and I have been friends for many years since our college days from Bangalore starting in 1965. I had the pleasure of witnessing your wedding in India.

Since we came to USA, we have maintained our friendship. Now our children are good friends with your children.

When we talked to you about three weeks back, you sounded so good and healthy. It breaks my heart to know that you are no longer with us physically. Gone from my sight, but never from my heart. You can only be physically gone but never the life lived and the memories we shared.

My friend, you lived a wonderfully joyful life, therefore let us all celebrate that life rather than lament your death.

Renuka, Maya and Manu,

Words may not wipe away your tears and hugs may not ease your pain, but hold on to your memories because forever they will remain.

May your hearts soon be filled with wonderful memories of joyful times together as you celebrate a life well lived

Wishing you peace to comfort, courage to face the days ahead and loving memories to hold forever in your hearts.

“ We—my whole family, are thinking of you with heartfelt sympathy at this time. I wonder if I am one of the oldest friends since we knew your family when Maya and Manu were just little girls. Our families went back and forth in small town Wisconsin often for a meal. It's been a long time since Ive had some of Renuga good cooking, but remember it still.

A memorial has been sent in Al's memory to the American Red Cross.

“ Alagar, my dear friend, you and I started our post graduate education at the Indian Institute of Science, Bangalore followed by few years of teaching at PSG College of Technology.

Both of us then came to USA and started our professional career. You elected to work directly in the casting industry making castings and I worked in the application side using the castings you made. During those golden years we had a lot of technical exchange and attended conferences together.

After working in the foundries for a number of years, you became a consultant and shined as an icon in the casting field. The casting industry will surely miss you and your contributions.

I am ashamed that I was not in touch with you during the last few years. It may be too late but I sincerely apologize for that.

I was shocked and saddened to hear the news from Manickam. Our heartfelt condolences to Renuka, Maaya and Manu family and the extended families.

We never forget the good old days we spent together.

Goodbye my friend. If there is life after this we will renew our friendship.
