“ Thinking of my daughter in the wee small hours of the morning, the following words came to me, so I wrote them down -

To My Daughter from Her Mom

I am quiet

You need to be heard

You knew how to be vocal

I preferred to be demure

Your voice was powerful

Mine is more subdued

You had conviction

So do I

Your strength was your intellect and your passion for learning

So is mine

You wanted to make a difference

You did

You touched so many and you did not even know

How I wish you had realized the impact you had on those left behind, how they will miss your ideas, your strength, your purpose, your spirit and your love.

Absolutely Beautiful and heartfelt words. She was such a beautiful girl inside and out. She was definitely a formidable woman and had a tremendous spirit during her short time on earth.

“ I miss you with every passing day. We always had each other's back. I wish I was there for you. There is a hole in my heart. I will cherish your love and friendship forever.

From Ani:

Tell you one thing

I'm gonna make noise when I go down

For ten square blocks

They're gonna know I died

All the goddesses will come up

To the ripped screen door

And say,

What do you want, dear?

And I'll say,

I want inside

“ Alyson, whenever I think of you, it is your effervescent smile I see, the warmth that you made everyone in your presence feel. I see you standing over a stove cooking with love and joy for your family, and us walking through a street fair, buying matching rings, eventually sitting alone- talking and dreaming of life and love.

You are love.

Always.

I love you eternally
