“ and just one more thing--you were always available to 'jump in' and help, as recently as with helping my daughter, Rebekah, in compiling memories for my 70th birthday. You were truly a great friend!

“ I love this picture of Anne riding the carousel! It reminds me of the girl I have known since the age of six, when we first met as she shyly stood by watching me and my family move into the house down the street from where she lived.

As young girls we posed as 'twins' at Scout camps, competed as to who could read the most Nancy Drew books in one sitting during Christmas breaks, endlessly taught our stuffed animals at our 'school' set up in the back room of her house, and spent countless summer nights playing hide and seek with the neighborhood kids in her back yard. Years of change on both our parts--college, marriage, children and moves--led to far fewer contacts. I wish they had been more. However, when we were in touch it seemed as if it were just yesterday:)

I know we all will miss you in so many ways--your BFF, Jill Miller Criscimagna

“ There were so many good memories, especially at the barn with the horses. Caesar's ornament falling off the window required we pay attention. One of the funniest was coming home from Shipshewana in a snow storm and listening to Anne pick on Liz about her driving. Jamie and I just sitting in the back chuckling. Always there was good food involved, whether at the Essenhaus or at Rose's. She will be truly missed.

“ Anne is one of the kindest, gentlest souls I've ever had the privilege to know. We met through the Zeta Tau Alpha alumnae chapter years ago, and share mid-April birthdays with 2 others in that group - she's always held a special place in my heart. When I was diagnosed with breast cancer, she is one of the first people to reach out as a fellow survivor. Her kindness, her words and support continue to mean the world to me. She shared the story of her trusted marble from her brother, and though she wasn't willing to share it with me (of course not!), she gave me my own talisman for strength and courage. I keep it in my wallet and will continue to think of her everytime I see it. My heart breaks for her family, and wish them peace and the comfort of memories and her love.

Remembering Anne from Girl Scout days when my mom was a leader. Anne was always very quiet but we were friends. I wish I had stayed close friends all these years. Sorry for her loss to the family.
