“ Every Sunday for the past 9 years I look forward to playing golf with Brad. Brad was a fierce competitor and I learned that you could never count him out. Just when you think you had the advantage on him he would pull a great shot off and win the hole. He had also a fierce temper that went along with that competitive spirit, but he always remained a gentleman. Brad was more than a friend he was a golfing buddy and we witnessed our victories and our defeats together on the golf course and enjoyed all those fun moments together. I'll always have great memories and you will be missed partner. We played our final round on Tuesday and then you teed off and heaven on Saturday. Brad had made three birdies that round something he never achieved before, so when he went golfing with the angels Saturday he had honed his skills and was ready. I will always miss you buddy rest in peace.
