“ Im truly sorry to hear about your lost. Brandon will definitely be missed by so many. One thing that helps me deal or cope with loosing a loved one is the scripture John 5:28,29. It stats " Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgment." Soon we will be able to see Brandon again because God (Jehovah) promises a resurrection hope. Also if you notice that it uses the term "memorial tomb" and not [Grave] which means Gods memory. Brandon was just a baby, a person that God will definitely remember. I hope this gives some comfort. Dion R (Truth.1914@yahoo.com)

“ We are so sorry to hear of your loss. No one should ever have to go threw what you are with the loss of a child. He is in God's hands now and watching down on you and hoping that threw all the pain you will find a way to go on. If you need anything we are here for you just let us know and we love you all.

“ We are so sorry. Please know that you are in our thoughts, in our hearts and in our prayers. Just as God is cradling your little one in His arms in heaven, praying that the very same arms will hold you close to comfort your broken hearts.

“ We're so sorry to hear of your tragic loss, We are grieving for Brandon, and so sorry that we never had the chance to meet him. Time and space, have a way of keeping people apart. We take comfort in the fact that life does not end with death; it is only changed.
