“ Jim Clemens was a picture of class. Always looked up to him and will always have fond memories. Especially when he and Fred were together...hilarious brothers. Loved hearing his stories and jokes and have missed seeing him for many years. Jim was certainly one of a kind. I am absolutely sure he is at peace now with the rest of his family in heaven. Love and peace to the Isom family who took such good care of him until the very end.

“ Uncle Jim always had the coolest gadgets and great stuff when he lived my Grandma. We would arrive at his house and all seven kids would race to the front door. I know he was ready to jump out of his skin, but always kept his composure. I remember he came to our house with his brand new car. It was just starting to get dark and we started throwing gravel at bats...that's what boys do. We stopped and heard a strange noise and all of a sudden the back window of his car collapsed in the backseat. He took it very well and shrugged it off like it wasn't a big deal. The great times we had in Florida and you and my Dad would tell the "driest " jokes imaginable. Uncle Jim, I will always cherish the memories I had with you and that great smile and laugh of yours. You were a great man and deserved the great life you had. Now the 3 brothers are back together again. Love you and tell Pops I love him.

“ Jim Clemens was my brother-in-law. He came in my life when he married my sister Barbara in his mid 60's. His life was so much different than ours that I often wondered if he knew what he was taking on. Four children can be a challenge and he had to get used to celebrating Father's Day and being called 'Dad'. Barbara's children loved chiding him about it and he was such a good sport at enduring their unending teasing. I think that inside he loved it. Jim was also financially secure but led an unpretentious life. He was quiet, yet always observing what was going on. He was easy to talk to, down to earth, loving, caring, and very religious. It was a privilege to have known him. He will be missed.
