“ I haven't known quite what I've wanted to share or I guess more appropriately how to share it. My mom was a very strong woman there's only one woman I would consider as strong and that's my gram. They both taught me many lessons in life and lord knows I learned how to be stubborn and bullheaded from both of them. I also learned to love unconditionally, value life, fight for the things that are important to me and treasure the little things because those are usually the things that mean the most. My mom and I didn't always see eye to eye, we spent a lot of time seeing who was better at being stubborn. Then I got older and I grew up just a little and I realized when I heard people say you are your mothers daughter that was a very wonderful compliment. For years I couldn't see it, people would say I looked like her, I acted like her, I had her mannerisms. Then one day I did see it and I'm very proud of it. I guess maybe that's why my gram called me Cindy so often throughout my life at one point I started I just started answering to it. My mom was a wonderful woman who touched so many peoples lives. We've shared so many wonderful memories and stories with family and friends over the last couple weeks, and I know there are just so many more that we will remember thru the years. I know you are up in Heaven looking over us now along with so many of my other loved ones. Just know you are loved, missed and remembered more then can ever be adequately expressed.

“ Our deepest condolences with the passing of your Wife, Mother, Relative and/or Dear Friend. Cindy was to me a very warming soul. Just talking with her was relaxing. She will be sorely missed, but will now be seated next to our God above. Rejoice in knowing she is no longer in pain, but enjoying paradise.....The Landen Family

“ Beautiful is the first word that comes to mind, inside and out.. As a mother in law and best friend Cindy has taught me many things, but my greatest gift from her was being an example to look up to. Her spirit was one of a kind, her strength was that of a hero. She was an amazing loving mother and a grandmother for which I could never ask for more, she truly was incredible. She taught me patience, to love unconditionally, advice in my own parenting as well as being the wife God intended me to be. To say we are at a loss is honestly an understatement however it brings comfort in knowing she is among the many angels watching over us, especially her parents... Cindy- you were my best friend, I thank you for all the uncountable things you have done for me, will, and our children... Your beauty and love will shine threw each day with every wind the blows and our hearts will be filled with your love with each beat.. I love you. You will forever be missed and never forgotten.. Rest well, until I see you again someday!
