“ My sweet sissy Lynn....How can I express a life time of love and memories in this tiny space on this page? You were, and are still my joy and safe place! I remember the time when we were only little girls (9 & 7), how , I was being picked on by a couple of older boys, and me being such a big scaredy cat, you ran to me and literally climbed up one of their bodies, and were trying to beat the kid in his face with your little fists! That has been stamped on my memory all these years 😞

Lynn, at the very last, you needed your family to fight for you, and I couldn't be there as often, but our sister Bonnie was the glue that held me and us together!

Bonnie, you did an excellent job fighting to try to keep our sissy alive.....giving up yourself to take care , and protect our sister while in not so great nursing facilities 😞😞

Lynn, you will always be in our MEMORIES AND for sure in our future in Heaven!!

Enjoy being with our loved ones who entered Heaven before you, AND you have met our Savior JESUS face to face 😊😍💜

I LOVE YOU SISSY 😞😞😞
