“ Dear Scotty, Roxanne, Annie, & Patty, Many of my fondest childhood memories are of the times my family spent visiting other Minch families, especially Aunt Darlene & Uncle Scotty. I'll never forget drinking "Shirley Temples" from your mom's best martini glasses. Even if I just wanted some milk, she'd pull over a chair or stepstool and let me pick out just the right fancy glass to put it in. I always felt like a superstar...a real honored guest...when I was there. When I'd tell her about my latest choir trip or a solo, she'd lean in and listen like I had the biggest news story to hit the press. Sure, she teased me that redheads don't look good in the color red, and she'd hint now & then that maybe I'd put on more weight (again,) but then she'd always follow it up with, "But, you're pretty in ANY color," or "You'll grow out of that baby fat, or into it. Doesn't matter, you're gorgeous." For the life of me, I can't remember now how or why the nickname "Aunt Nasty" even came to be... She was one-of-a-kind, and will be missed by all who knew her and those of us blessed enough to be loved by her. My love to you all, Tracey

“ My heartfelt condolences go out to Roxanne, Patty, Scott, Anne and the entire Minch family. I never knew your mother, but I have a feeling that if she raised a daughter as wonderful as Roxanne, it's likely that the apple didn't fall too far from the tree. I have no doubt she was a wonderful wife, mother and friend. No matter when we lose our folks, it always seems too soon to say goodbye. I will keep you all in my thoughts and prayers!

“ I'm sorry for your loss. Death is our common enemy as it affects all of us. I therefore want to encourage the family to take heart and be hopeful in the promise by Jehovah God, that he will wipe every tear and no more will be any death again. Death will be brought to nothing, Isaiah 25:8 and 1 Corinthians 15:28. God by means of Jesus will call and all that died will hear his voice and come out. John 5:25. We have an opportunity to see our dead loved ones come back to life again and never to die. What a wonderful moment that will be!
