“ Today Honey, is your Birthday September 13, 2020. You would of been 64 today. It's been 10 years since your passing on to Heaven. Not a day ... has ever gone by.... without me thinking of you : several times a day ... and praying that you are watching over us .. as Angels do surrounding our Lord. You have always been my Light House at the end of a troubled Oceans that I found myself in, my North Star ... when I'm feeling desperate in times of conflict and needed guidance ... you were always there for me in the 29 years of our lives. I LOVE YOU..... I MISS YOU SO MUCH.

“ I wish a Valentine to a woman who has inspired my life for so many years. Like a flame burning on top of an everlasting candle. The LOVE we shared will never be compromised or equaled by any other and no Wind or Breath will ever put out that flame that I will always carry within my Heart.

“ Im truly sorry to hear about your lost. Denise will definitely be missed by so many. One thing that helps me deal or cope with loosing a loved one is the scripture John 5:28,29. It stats " Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgment." Soon we will be able to see Denise again because God (Jehovah) promises a resurrection hope. Also if you notice that it uses the term "memorial tomb" and not [Grave] which means Gods memory. Denise seemed like a really nice lady, a person that God will definitely remember. I hope this gives some comfort. Dion R (Truth.1914@yahoo.com)

“Denise, You had more tragedies in your short life than most people would have in several lifetimes. However you handled it all with grace, optimism and humour. I can never recall you complaining about anything. Your friendship and all the adventures we had together [some ill advised in hindsight but which seemed will like good ideas at the time!} will always have a major part in my memory bank. I hope things are better for you now, you have enriched a lot of lives and that is the best achievement anyone can hope for in their time on earth. Warm up the oven for me and we will soon recommence our banana bread bake offs. love, Joan

“I was so sorry to hear today about Denise passing away. I wanted to share how Denise touched my life and is a part of who I am today. Years ago, Denise and I were really good friends. I learned to have confidence in myself because of her. She often believed in me when no one else did and she gave me a gift I have to this day... the belief that I had a good voice and could actually sing. She was with me the day we tried out for Girls' Glee in high school. I still remember singing "Delta Dawn" with her and our voices seemed to fit so well together. Denise only lived a few blocks away and we spent a lot of our days and nights together. Then I went away to college and she went her way. I continued singing and have share the gift of music with my daughter. She has been involved in music since the day she was born. My daughter is now 22 and has been gifted with a talent... the voice of an angel. In great part, I have Denise to thank for that great joy in my life. I am so glad to see that she had people who loved her and to spend her life with. God bless all of those she left behind. My thoughts and prayers are with you.

“ I miss you already. You were always so easy to talk to about any personal issue that I was dealing with. You could always see the good in the bad and reason that with time it would get better. You had to endure so much in the last few years but you were always optimistic that things would get better for you no matter what the obstacle that stood in your way. You are now in a place where there are no diseases, no pain or suffering. Put in a good word for us and we'll see you on the other side some day.

“ Denise was an inspiration to all who knew her. Her faith never stumbled though her battle was great. In many ways, she was like my Finnish mother... they both believed in not saying anything bad about anyone. Denise always managed to see the positive things and her love for God flowed through her words and actions. I miss her already, our friendship was so sweet, I treasure the memories that we shared.

“ Denise - You are my guiding light, my inspiration, my teacher - I will never forget you. Your beautiful voice taught me how to sing, your intellect taught me how to reason, and your love taught me how to deal with the challenges of this world. You are in a better place now -- a place where you deserve to be -- and I hope you'll be patient and wait for us. Love Dan

“ Honey, we've done so much in 29 years. No matter what the obstacles, we have always managed to find eachother. You are GENUINE, HONEST, and only capable of rendering comfort and Love to all that were blessed to know you. I am missing you Hard Honey. I am glad we did Our "Bucket-List" and had spent the last three years with LOVE, MARRIAGE, TRAVEL, and doing things that made us HAPPY. You have gone to a better place as I held you through the night... and Honey... we will again find eachother. I will live by the ways you have showed me through others. You must of done a Good Job here because the Lord took back His Angel and now you are with other Angels. I'll Never Stop Loving you Denise

“ Denise, Thank you for being such a nice sister in law. You always brought a smile and an up lifting grace when you visited us at Smartys Cafe, where we all had many days of summer fun and relaxation. “ I am so sorry to hear of your great loss. Our dead loved ones are greatly missed, but it is comforting to know that they remain in God's memory. God promises us in Acts 24:15 that both the righteous and unrighteous will live again. What a beautiful hope that we will see our loved ones again.
