“ Im truly sorry to hear about your lost. Edwin will definitely be missed by so many. One thing that helps me deal or cope with loosing a loved one is the scripture John 5:28,29. It stats " Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life, those who practiced vile things to a resurrection of judgment." Soon we will be able to see Edwin again because God (Jehovah) promises a resurrection hope. Also if you notice that it uses the term "memorial tomb" and not [Grave] which means Gods memory. Edwin seemed like a really nice guy, a person that God will definitely remember. I hope this gives some comfort. Dion R (Truth.1914@yahoo.com)

“ Dear Mom, Brothers, Family and Friends, As I reflect on our great loss with sadness, I hold tight to Dad's memories. Through the years, Dad has taught many lessons. During the past one and a half years, as Dad dealt with the difficulties of lung cancer, I learned the importance of courage, faith and love. I learned to accept things we can't change with courage, trust in God, and know the strength you receive when you have a loving family. And so, may God give all of us the courage to stay strong and united and carry on with life as Dad would want us to. I love you all and I love you Dad.

I suffer from nothing as serious as cancer. I have taken your words to heart as well as gospel and Second Sunday of Easter. Trust in God and, never ever forget the words He spoke, "Peace be with you." I loved my dear Uncle Ed more than you could possibly imagine. God bless you, Sharon and all of the Stockman family 🕯️

“ How I wish we could be there to say a final goodbye to my dear cousin and offer a shoulder to cry on to my friend Florence. Ed and I grew up together and even though we eventually lived far apart, I always felt very close to him and will miss him. Our sympathy & prayers are with you, Florence, and your family. Love, Honey and Ray
