I am saddened to find this, for some reason today. Childhood memories of Elaine and I have flooded my day, I decided to search the web for her. Lupe and Dan I am sorry for the loss. And to her siblings and children I am sure you get to hang on to warm memories as I do. She was my buddy when we were young, and we could cook a mean blueberry pie. I am thinking it looks like our children may have gone to school together. You now a star baby cheer.

“ Hi, I did not know the person who has passed personally, but I wanted to offer my condolences and share some encouraging thoughts from the Bible, that will help you to cope with your loss. One thing that helps me to deal, is what is being brought out in Ecclesiastes 9:5, and John 11:11. Those scriptures bring out how those who have died are not conscious of anything and are at rest sleeping. They are no longer going through any pain, they have no more thoughts (negative or positive) and are just at rest peacefully. Some people grieve because they wish they could tell the person that has passed one last thing, or hold them one last time. The Bible tells us at John 5:28,29 "Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in memorial tombs (dead ones) will hear my voice and will come out: Isnt this a time to look forward to? A time when our heavenly Father, through his son Jesus Christ, will bring back our dead loved ones, and we will be able to see and hold them again. I am sorry about your loss. Its normal to go through a grieving process, and make sure you take time to do so. Your family is in my thoughts and prayers, Take Care
