“ Eldon was a special man who I was blessed to meet and have a great friendship with. He considered my daughter his Granddaughter. He loved her very much. My daughter and Eldon had such a wonderful connection. She would run to him to hug him endlessly with unfailing love and respect. She would help him with anything he needed to include bringing him a Thanksgiving Dinner with me on Thanksgiving. With me? we also had a great friendship. We sang together, I pushed his wheelchair, and we even took him to the 4th of July parade and fireworks. It didnt seem to matter as long as we could hang out together. He painted me pictures of wolves, and horses because he knew how much I loved those animals. He would make Trinity ceramic gifts of horses and bring her gifts for her "Just Because". He was never selfish, never mean, and never stopped wanting to give of himself. His determination to keep doing things he loved never stopped. No matter his disabilities....he kept going. You could find him all over the Veterans Home where he would wheel himself with no help. He didnt stop living just because he had health issues....instead he lived every day to the best of his ability and pushed to make it better than what others might settle for. I may have had to physically look downward at him to see him but even then, I was looking up to him because I was amazed at his outlook on things. He was a tender hearted loving and giving man who I admired. He touched my soul and souls of many who loved him at the Veterans Home to include my daughter who is 12 years old. Even in the darkest hour of his life, days away from his passing....he sang with us at the hospital "How great thou Art" the best he could. Nothing stopped him. He has brought new meaning to my life on the meaning of "Live Every Moment As If It Was Your Last". God Bless you Eldon. I am sure you are sitting on the right hand of Our Lord as an example to all. My heart aches right now. It's torn because a piece of you that entered in to it has left, but I will always have your spirit with me. My heart will mend but the memories will never die. Until I see you again one day. Keep singing your heart out. Ride your horse in Heaven. You are my inspiration. We all miss & love you Eldon. tears

“ I just wanted to send our deepest sympathy to the loss of a truly great courageous man. We had a lot of fun singing the oldies with Eldon. He loved to sing and you could never find him in his room. We will miss you Eldon. Thanks for all you have done for us and our country. Until we meet again. Sherie

“ Sorry to hear of Eldon's passing. We will always cherish the times we were able to spend with him. Wilson especially remember the fun times when they were younger and riding the horse "Old Bob". I remember the visits with him and Lana and going picnicking at Big Springs and exploring a cave. Please, know the our thoughts and prayers are with you and the family.
