“ I've only met my grandfather once, when I was around 4 years old. I barely remember him, but I have pictures. He looks just like my father (Grandpa's 3rd son), Matthew. My grandmother, Sandra, (his ex-wife) found a letter Grandpa had wrote to him 2nd son, Mike. God bless grandpa's soul. He is home now, R.I.P Grandpa Frank

To the love of my life. You are my heart and soul forever and eternity. I miss you every moment I long to touch your face and hold your hand. Eventually we will be back together with the Lord. Until then my heart aches to hear your laughter and to wake each morning and see your precious smiling face which brightened each day of my life. I love you Frank and always will. No one can ever take the love we shared. I truly love you honey.

“ Frank' s strength for caring, being compassionate and sense of goodness was world class and CAN NOT be matched. His thoughtfulness AND willingness to help others known to him or complete strangers was one of his many strengths. Frank helped me move in to my home/offered to ride his lawnmower 3 streets over and cut the grass. A well mowed yard was his pride. I often saw him at Holiday Market getting groceries to make a home cooked meal for him and Carol. And yes, offering to share a plate with me. Men of Frank's humble nature are far and few. Not only being a 'Gentlemen', but also a 'Gentle man'. Frank gave us a very unique and precious gift. The gift of him self. My father always told me to hold on to your memory's. To cherish the memories of those we loved and lost. Know those memories shared and kept are truly a celebration and a tribute to those we have had in our lives. For us to be with them keep forever and forever. My thoughts and prayers are here for you and yours. Cindy Harris
