“ Jerry was the first of 11 grandchildren born into our family. He was strong and protective to his younger brother, Scott. In their younger years, he came to Scott's rescue after being hit in the head by an ice ball. He kept in touch with his family. His calls were like a breath of fresh air, greeting you with love and encouragement. He loved his nephew, Jacob. He spoke of him with great joy and pride. He enjoyed the simple things in life, making that special dinner and spending time with his dog, Jack. Although his parents, Gerald and Gail, were gone, he cherished their memories and spoke of them often. He was a Clean Tech for years. He was an avid fan of baseball and was a faithful fan at Scott and Jacob's games.
