“ Your mom was a great woman and loved by so many friends and loved ones. She never failed to ask me how I was doing before I could ask her the same! I know how rough it is to lose your mother. My mom was my best friend and I lost my best friend, it will be 2 years on October 13th. And, it doesn't get any easier! I still go to pick up the phone to call her with some exciting news, etc. and have to stop and remind myself of the fact that she is not here. But, I know she is with God now, no more pain, no radiation, no pain medications, no more chemo and no more tests and procedures for her to endure. I know your hearts are so empty as there is no one like your mother...no one! If no one else seemed to care, Mom did...no one to fill that emptiness ...that hole in your heart. She is gone but listen....just listen....you will feel her presence among you...a certain smell....a flower....a little breeze...I believe those are the little things that you will experience and know they are sent from her...just listen....

Your mom has already went through that shadow of death and is now with her Saviour and her beloved Frank, and are awaiting the rest of her family to be able to join them so the circle will not be unbroken. She will be missed but you wouldn't want her to return now. She's already at her eternal home and now she and dad are awaiting all of you. God bless all of you and my prayers are with you. Hold up each other now as that will give you the strength to go on.

She was loved. In Him, Shirley Ramsey (Michelle's mom).
