“ I got to know Krunk through Asherons Call and became a very close friend. I was aware he had health issues for a long time and we went through a lot together. Not just his illness but my daughters as she was also diabetic. He would spend a lot of his time helping me in the game along with personnel matters in real life. Not only did he help with my daughter and son but also with me, when I went through a bad divorce. He was a true pillar in my life and I do not know how I would have coped with out his support and advice as we used to chat nearly every day. Due to Asherons Call closing down and other issues we lost this close contact but on occasion had a chat on the phone or received a message through his lovely mum Carolyn. I was in total shock when I heard about his passing and feel like a little part of me has gone with him. He was a wonderful honest person. Sending love to his children Jordan, Morgan and Jack and especially to his Mum Carolyn. XXXX - My thoughts will be with you and all your family and friends Love UABabe aka Susan

Thank you for taking the time to tell us (Jack's family) about your great memories. We knew he was very involved in the game but it's nice to read how many good friends he had in that world.

“I knew Jack through the online game Asheron's Call. I came for the game, but I stayed for the community. I honestly never knew what he did with his personal life because I'd see him in game almost 24/7; I swore he was part of the game's code. As I'd see him almost daily, we'd talk quite a bit - either about his favorite food recipes, or more personal topics like our former relationship with the LDS church. We'd share voice communication through the old program Ventrillo and do group chats over mic while playing together in-game. I mailed him a personal note when his health was struggling back in 2016, and when our game shut down in 2017 we fell out of touch. I was hoping one day I'd hear through some of our other mutual friends that he was back in health and we could get him to join in on some of our new, online gaming adventures. I'm sorry for his family's loss. He is already missed.”

“ I too met Jack through the online game, Asheron's Call. Jack was a kind player and helped everyone who asked in any way he could. He was always on the lookout for me and my pull towards a specific type of armor in game. He'd always have gifts for me and my in game characters. He was an amazing man and he'll be missed so very much. R.I.P. our friend! <3

“ I knew Jack through the game we both loved. I met him late in the life of the game, by chance another new friend hooked me up with him when I needed to complete a quest. Jack got me through it and then we had many a talk there after. He was a super guy, funny and kind to all. I will miss him. --Cuttler Strongmad (aka Ms. Lee)
