“ you supported me emotionally in a way that is so rare and beautiful and not very often associated with our generation. you encouraged me when I was scared to take the steps necessary to emerge from the darkness and improve my life. you've been the most genuine confidante, and such a truly giving, loving, and HILARIOUS human. the world would be better with more people like you in it, so I guess it makes sense that you were needed elsewhere to improve a few things. we love you. so many people love you so much.

“ I don't feel there is anything I can say that can take away the sadness everyone is feeling. Know that we are all praying for the family and Jack, and that we hope everyone's words of guidance, wisdom, and comfort help to ease your pain and make this just the slightest bit less tragic. I can only imagine how all of you must be feeling right now. I send my love and my sincerest condolences.
