“ Joan an tony were my favorite neighbors in dearborn heights. They let me cut thru their yard to take a short cut to dinos pizza as a kid. I'll miss them very much.

“ My cousin Joan was a particularly generous person. She never hesitated to lend a hand when it was needed. She was so good to my Aunt Sue when she was no longer able to care for herself. Our family spent many a weekend visiting with Joan's mom and dad and when Joan married we enjoyed good times with Joan and her husband Tony. She was easy to talk with, laughed easily and just had a kind nature. I will miss her very much.

“Joan was the perfect cousin and older sister to me. Throughout the years I experienced a caring, kind person who never complained or said a negative thing about anyone. She was of great assistance to my mom and aunt through the years. That action brought us closer together. I remember the panic she had when we moved Aunt Sue into an assisted living apartment after my mother died as she couldn't live alone. We moved all her furniture and belongings while she was detained. Joan was so worried about the move and Sue's reaction. When Sue came into the apartment, all she said was "the window was cleaned and I can see my roses outside". Joan smiled and was relieved.

I had planned on seeing her in July during my visit to Detroit and will miss her as we planned our activities. She knew she was dying and confirmed she was ready to see Tony and the others who proceeded her. But she will be missed.

“Joan and I have been friends for 43 years. So many wonderful memories of our times together. She was one of the kindest and honest people I have ever known. With that said, I would like to share a story that hopefully will make everyone smile. Joan and I worked at a pasta factory together. We made meals to go. The pasta sheets used to make the lasagna was a little too large. So Joan would cut a small bit off and throw it away. One of the owners told her to put it in the pan the way it was. But, it didn't fit. So, Joan cut the small piece off and stuck it in her apron pocket. At the end of the day, Joan took the pieces of pasta dough home and threw them away. No one was the wiser and the sheet of pasta fit the pan. We laughed many times about it. I will miss her dearly.
