“ I was so saddened to read of John's passing. He was truly one of my favorites. His bright blue eyes and infectious smile were always a welcome beginning to my work day. I have moved out of the area, but just came back for a brief visit. Not sure what had inspired me to open a 3 day old newspaper this morning, but now I know. Warm thoughts and prayers going out to his family.

“ The flowers I sent to Rachelle, Robin and Rodney, although they look like a Christmas centerpiece, I thought long and hard on how I wanted to represent my Uncle, as he was to me. The bells on the garland represent the old saying, "Every time a bell rings and angel gets it's wings", the holly represents the crown of thorns on Jesus' head, the berries his blood he shed for our sins. The red flowers represent love, the white eternity. The candles when lit, represent the eternal flame of love each and everyone of us will carry in our hearts. One for him and one for my Aunt Seneth. Although I can not be there physically, my feeling of loss is great. I truly understand how this feels to lose a Father. And feel the pain for all the Kids and the Grand children he so loved.

*In closing...
He has finally got his wings.*

Love, Sheryl
