“ For those unfamiliar with the Polish language, Ciocia means Aunt, and is a title that I express with the highest degree of respect and affection.

Ciocia Jola was born in Poland, in the town of Biłgoraj, to Mieczysław and Krystyna. She was always an extraordinary inspiration for me and others, living her life with positivity and perseverance. As a young adult, Ciocia Jola experienced a life-changing tragedy after surgery, leaving her paraplegic, resulting in wheelchair use for the rest of her life. But this did not stop her from enjoying the most out of life. Ciocia Jola decided to immigrate to the United States, assimilating and integrating into a new culture and surroundings, an accomplishment worthy of deep admiration. Her ambitions did not stop there, as she would go on to earn her Bachelor's Degree at Wayne State University for her studies in Medical Technology. She had a long, productive career as a laboratory technologist for over 20 years. I can definitely say with total agreement here that she was a fine, heroic representative for achieving the American Dream.

I will always remember Ciocia Jola as a warm-hearted person of incredible talents. She was an artistic painter, an enthusiastic gardener, animal lover, and a gourmet baker known for her marble cakes, cupcakes, drożdżówka, and of course, her famous cheese cakes. Whether celebrating a birthday, graduation, confirmation, Easter, or Wigilia, I always remembered family members asking her how did she make the dessert. She would reply, “It's easy”. I like to think those simple words were her motto, full of positivity over the many challenges she continually faced in order to never give up and to live life to the fullest.

I will deeply Miss Ciocia Jola, as I always looked forward to seeing her no matter the occasion or event. She will always be in my thoughts and I have no doubt that she is reunited with her loving husband, Uncle Albert, in God's Kingdom of Heaven. May her soul rest in piece.
