“ So sorry for your loss, Kim. These heartfelt Tributes to Joey have given me a snapshot of the loving, thoughtful, caring, kind, generous man you married. You were blessed to find each other.

You certainly were the best wife Joey ever could have hoped for or imagined. Loving such a man, your heart must be full of sweet memories that will warm you, sustain you, and be your joy. May those memories, along with the love of Jesus and comfort of the Holy Spirit, continue to bless and strengthen you in the days ahead.

You remain in our prayers. Love and hugs from aunt geri & uncle don “ Joey was an honorable and generous man. He never hesitated to help anyone who needed it. I remember when my sister met him and then introduced me to him. I loved him right away. After I had surgery Kim and Joey came over and brought me Lee's Famous Recipe Chicken while I was recovering. When I had to move and didn't have anywhere for my cat Ollie to go Joey couldn't wait to take him in and love him. Ollie loved Joey so much. Always sitting on his lap and sleeping. I'm going to miss you and your infectious way of making someone smile. I'm even going to miss our disagreements because we understood that we were family first.

“*Joey, I have known you since I was a kid, I remember you getting all dressed up in your tux to work auction at the vfw hall, I always thought you were so cool.
Your family and you have always felt like family to me, you like a big brother. I will miss joking around with you at the setups and visiting with you at your parents.
You were so loved and will be greatly missed, when you first found out you had ALS you told me you were most sad you wouldn't be able to take care of your parents and I promise you I will make sure they are always taken care of.
I love you and will miss you always ❤️💛*
