“As his “Auntie Sy,” I have many memories of his growing up and the delightful antics of the brothers romping around Grandma and Grandpa Hale’s house in Eastern Kentucky. My most recent memory was an act of Love—when he returned to me the brass rubbing I had done at Ely Cathedral for his beloved “mum.” I had a special relationship with Glenys, whom I lovingly called “Roberts,” and I had done the rubbing for her as a reminder of her beloved England. Jody called to see if I would like to have it—of course, I said yes. Jody had it wrapped and sent to me, and the woman with her hands in prayer is now hanging above my desk in my office, a visible reminder that both Glenys and Jody are present there with me. Jody is a Gift to all of us—thoughtful, kind, generous, and loving. He will be greatly missed, but we are so blessed and grateful to have had him in our lives. We will be with you live-streaming the service, since we can’t be there in person—our son, Chris Carter, will represent our family. We are grateful for Bev’s love and devotion to Jody throughout. Our love and prayers go out to Bev, the children, the siblings, other family members, and friends who knew and loved Jody. With Love and Prayers, Aunt Sibyl and Uncle Nick Piediscalzi 🍷🙏💕🤔🥰👉👈

“Jody was my brothers first friend in Plymouth. I seen him first peering through our basement window. Trying to see his new neighbors. Will miss him alot.

“Jody and I go back all the way to our early teens at Lakepoint subdivision. Cherishing our times together growing up, my friend. You will be missed.

“ Jody was the best friend anyone could ever have. We shared many indoor and outdoor adventures together including camping, fishing, and shooting. I will dearly miss his humor, intelligence, and friendship. My love and sympathy goes out to his wife Beverly, and the Hale family. May you rest in peace my old friend! Blair

“ My husband and myself will miss our brother in-law so much. He was funny and my husband Craig enjoyed the time they spent together at the Livonia shooting range and the lunches shared and talks. I always felt he was just like Clint Eastwood, tough and nice and funny. He was a man of many outdoor interests which I always thought was very cool. I will miss you Jody and so will Craig, we love you. Love Gail and Craig Gerhardt

“ It’s such a sad day to hear of such a good friend passing. I’ll always remember hearing the rumble of the Harley sportster Jody always rode and how he loved it. I also remembered the days out hunting pheasant with him in the fields then going back home to pluck the feathers that I always let him do. I’d always say better show me one more time how to do it. Then it was fun for all the get togethers at union lake with everyone. There were so many good times. He will be dearly missed. He was a great dad husband and friend. And these two were quite the pair. Smitt
