“ The Bible makes the promise: “Your dead ones Yes, Almighty God has not only the power but also the desire to resurrect persons whom he chooses. Jesus Christ himself said: “Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out.”—John 5:28, 29; Acts 24:15. I encourage you to go to the website: www.JW.org With further questions . Respectfully, M. Frankli

“ Mom, we knew this day would come and that we would have to live our lives without you. We are heartbroken but we also love you enough to know that you are at peace and that will help to get us through. I, too, will live by your example of kindness, selflessness and gratitude. We have so many memories and we are so fortunate to have had you with us for so many years. I will miss you every day. I hope you know how very much you are loved.

“ Jodi and Marilyn, Your mother has been such an inspiration to so many people. Her kindness, her respect for all, her humor and her love for others were clearly part of who she was. From her chicken plucking days up to her last days on this earth, she always had kind words to share. Thank you, both, for taking such excellent care of her when she needed it the most. She knew she was loved by you, your husbands and your children. I'll miss the stories of those grandchildren...you'll have to keep me updated!! As you said, Jodi - I, too, consider myself lucky to have been a part of her life. -Sue.

“ Mom, I can't imagine what it will be like without you here in my life. I am so happy that you are finally at peace. You have shared so many of life lessons through examples of how you lived your life. You have brought so much joy to so many people. If I can be half the mother, friend, and person you were., I will consider myself lucky..Love you so much
