“ Kolton it has taken me so long to write this because doing so acknowledges that you are really gone and not coming back. So many thoughts of you fill my heart and mind. You were so damn smart, you taught me allot. So many things you did made me proud. I remember how impressed and proud I was of your rap on saving kids suffering from seizures. You always had that smile on your face. You and I playing double solitaire at the house in Highland Park, your love of Halloween, the drawings you gave me, going to the Miss Bud Races, you and Andrea, the kids and I at the hotel and Big Boy, the night when all of us piled into the van for the Christmas lights, the list goes on and on. When we were at Grandma's in August I had no idea you were in pain. Wehen we talked on the phone about Zillow I didn't know, I so wish I could have seen it. Everyone has an opinion of our relationship and it pains me to think that you ever may of thought I didn't love you. I would have gladly gone to my grave to give the world even one more day of your smiles. You have so many people that truly loved you. So many friends that are feeling your loss. I hope you are able to see that now. I really want to see you, to hug you, to shake you until you could see everyone else saw; you were a great person. I will never be the same now that you are gone. When you didn't come down for Christmas I was sad but I understood you had a life of your own. Now there will be nothing for me to understand, you just won't be there. How do I go on knowing I will never see you again on this earth? I am so sorry that you chose death over life but I will never judge you for that decision. I hate the decision you made but I respect that you did what you thought was the best choice for you. I love you son and no matter what anyone says no one loves you more than your mother. I pray that you know that now. I am sorry I couldn't take your pain away. Looking forward to seeing you again on the other side. Please look down on us and send us your smiles. Keep a watchful eye on Caysin, Savannah, Dominick, Akira and your brother and sister. Help me to know you are happy now. I love you Kolton, Mom

“ Kolton, I miss you kid. I can't stop thinking about your positive energy. you brought out the smiles in every one and you were truly a special soul. I replay memories of us playing as kids to coming up north to visit grandma and pops and hanging out in your room even though you just had to have clown masks and would laugh at me cringing every time. I thank you for the night we all packed in the van and went through the Christmas lights because that night was a really fun time and if it had to be the last time I saw you I'm glad it was on that note. I'm sorry you carried so much pain and I wish somehow it could have been taken away another way but I hope you are at peace now. I love you my baby cousin and I will think of you often ❤️

“ Bud, you always helped me see light in tough situations in my life, and I wish every second that I knew you were hurting so bad. It was a blessing to have you in my life for the time you were there. I'm always going to miss your big hugs, I'm going to miss the way you talked to Odin, I'm going to miss hearing the way you would say "Alvin" in your excited voice when you'd pet him, I'm going to miss having a wonderful friend to talk to. You helped me through some really hard times. I only wish I could have helped you. I'll never forget when my son was 6 months old we put a snap back on him and when you saw him your face lit up in such approval and excitement and you peeked your head in the car at him and you kept saying how cute he was ♡ I'll never forget chilling with you and Andrea, playing video games ♡ andrea made us all nachos because we had the munchies :) You always knew how to light up so many peoples day. Remember the time when David and I stopped over on our boards at 3 am to chill outside with ya ♡ you looked at David and looked at me and told David I was a keeper and I almost cried because it meant a lot that you'd say that about us. I'll never forget the times wed stay up late talking about It's always Sunny In Philadelphia, laughing through text at the hilarious things on there. When you and Andrea took your epic trip to Cali i loved seeing all of your posts and adventurous pictures! I'll never forget your smile brother, the short time I knew you was a blessing. I pray for your mother, your siblings, your aunt, your family, your friends and I pray for your Andrea. We all are going to miss you so much man.

if I had a time machine and I could go back and tell you a few things Kolton, I would say this; you are a true friend, you know how to make people smile, you are truly talented with your rap technics. You're original, i live your art style, i live that youre with such a unique beautiful soul like Andrea because you both are beautiful souls! you always help me in tough situations, when I couldn't handle them on my own you would message me (sometimes my old Facebook and we would both be so confused, lol) and I appreciate you so much for being that person in my life that when you knew something was up you would message me sometimes not even my

"closest" friends would message me like you would, I just wish I could have sensed the same about you and been there for you more Kolt.

I may have only known your soul for a short time of 3 1/2 years. But it was a time I was blessed to have known you.. David Busch, Odin Arcane and I will miss your presence so much, we know your soul is all around us now and you will never ever be forgotten, not even for a day. Once again send our condolences to your mother, your siblings your family and your friends. We all miss you so much Kolt. Forever always, your friend.

“ Kolton let me start this by saying I'm sorry!!! I let you down. Kiddo I have loved you from the day you were born and distance and time has never changed that. You always were a kid that needed his space in general I'm glad I and everyone else gave you that. We were so proud of you as was gran and pops. In many ways you and I were alike. We had some good times together and some hard times. I remember our late night trips to subway you saying hurry aunt Lisa we are up north things close early lol 2 chicken teriyaki. Subs one for now one for lunch the next day. I remember you and Anthony disagreeing over who gran really belonged to you or him lol I think you both learned as you got older you both held that special place in her heart as you do in mine. I love you kiddo I really hope you know that I so hope you found the peace you were looking for.

“ My youngest nephew Kolton, it was on May 26, 1993 that I had the privilege of watching you come into this world, so excited that another branch was being added to our family tree. Now a branch on our tree has died and our family tree is broken along with the hearts of SO MANY people who loved you more than you ever realized. The world lost a very talented young man when you left us. I wish you could have seen what others saw. Your beautiful smile, your humor, your artistic talent, your love of music and your passion, knowledge, love, dedication and advocacy for the cannabis industry will never be forgotten. We were all so proud of the man that you had become. I know that you are now in a place where there is no hurt or fear and are safe with other loved ones we have lost along the way. Although it is oh so very hard to see you go, I hope that you have found the peace that you were searching for. Please say hello to Grandma and Grandpa for me. You will be greatly missed Kolton! Until we meet again, I love you, may you now rest in peace.
Love, Aunt Janice

“ Kolton I still remember mom telling me that you were going to be coming I was so excited for my baby sister. Even then you were a practical joker. Every ultrasound said we were and girl. We painted my room pink and your side was baby minnie and mine was beauty and the beast. Mom and Kerry were awesome and they were going to let me name you. Destiny Brianne was going to be your name. The day you were born and Gran to us up to the hospital to meet you and mom told me you were a boy. I don't remember being upset. I just looked at your chubby little face and new you were my baby. And you always have been. I don't know how I let life get away from me. How did I let our relationship slip into one that we talked so sparingly and seen eachother even less? I know that for the rest of my life I will never forgive myself for being so distance. In my heart of hearts I know this is what you wanted and that there isn't anything I could have said or done to change your mind. But we could talked more, I should have made more time to see you. I keep waiting for you to text me back or call me saying sike or what a twist. I love that you always called me kid regardless of my being 8 years older than you. I miss you so much.
Love you babe.
