Tribute Wall

“ I like to imagine Mr. Perry riding down on his original Triumph motorcycle to pick up Mrs. Perry. Jessi, of course, is in the side car with goggles and a white scarf flapping in the breeze. 😊 I love you, Mrs. Perry ☐☐

Goodbye, Mrs. Perry. I love you. ❤️☐

“ Laurie will be missed and I treasure the time that I spent with her over the decades of knowing her.

“ Mine and Bonnie's hearts go out to Laurie's daughters, Annie and Crystal their family and friends. To Joann, Don, Karen and their families. Laurie was always gracious with me and I liked her ability to say what she meant and by her energy and passion for what she believed in. She was one of the strongest women i have known. May your hearts know peace. I have found solace in this ancient poem. This is only the last stanza, but my hope is you find some help from it going forward.

“...Tis a human thing, love,
A Holy thing,
To Love what death has touched.”
