“ Deepest sympathy to the Blair Family and Friends. Laurel will surely be missed by those who dearly knew and loved her. Personally I did not get a chance to meet her or the family. "However, This is one of many scriptures in God's holy inspired word that gives comfort and a Bible-based hope for the future. At: (John 5 verse 25) Jesus Christ said: "Most truly I say to YOU, The hour is coming, and it is now, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God and those who have given heed will live. So we have Jehovah God's promise through his only-begotten son Jesus Christ that we will see our dead loved ones again. In the mean time questions such as why do we die? Or why does God allow suffering? and more can be answered by consulting any of Jehovah's Witnesses in your locality. Or please contact me and I will be more than happy to show you satisfying answers from the Bible.

“ Though we never met in person,you was a fellow Avondale friends. What strong strenght you showed by your desire to fight until God called you home to rest. I pray that your Husband and sons, as the rest of the family can find peace knowing that you are in God's loving and caring arms now. Rest in peace. Peace be with your extended family. “ I send my heartfelt sympanthies to you Ken & the boys. Especially to Joy who has lost her best friend and Mary & Lowell, it is just not right to bury a child, I know. I loved Laurel as a sister. We were classmates in school & Bunko girls. She was the kindest, most gentle person I knew. Our hearts break but God is rejoycing. Laurie, you are my hero, you gave the good fight. You fought longer than any one of us would have. You rest now and when God thinks I'm as good as you I'll be in heaven just like you. See you there. <3
