“ Loved hearing Lee play harmonica, especially the hymns, at the open mic events. He really did shine his light for the Lord.

“ I first met Lee, years ago, at a Baseline Folk Society open mic night. He was a kind, friendly man. I also thought he seemed a little lost or lonely. I KNOW he played "Red River Valley," his signature song ❤️ Several years later, he was known; a well-recognized, much-loved figure in every musician's group he played! He was also no longer lonely, when he met Virginia ❤️. I will always think of Lee when I see very small harmonicas, worn on a chain around the neck□

With much love and respect for a great person who was surely tough, P.t. "Trish" Ragland.

“ My story teller, my gramps next door, and my friend. I remember all the boon truck rides he gave to my siblings and I. I remember all of the hockey games, I especially remember the times I would come to his harmonica gigs at soul and soul, maxwell's, and the coffee beanery in Plymouth. I remember all the car rides and visiting his mom and wife at the nursing home. I remember the breakfasts we had at Denny's and the late nights at McDonalds after his gigs. I remember him and I shared our love of garlic so much, he one day showed me how to eat raw garlic on a piece of bread. Later that night, I came home to my family that told me to evacuate the house because my breath reeked of garlic. I am grateful for lessons he taught me like driving ahead, say how you feel, enjoy the small things in life, and to always have faith no matter what life throws at you. Someone told me that he will always be here guiding us in the right direction. He has left an impression on everyone who crossed his path, and I know and still see that he is always apart of each and everyone of us. I'll see you on the other side.

I love you Gramps,
Hannah
