“ Im truly sorry to hear about your lost. Lyn will definitely be missed by so many. One thing that helps me deal or cope with loosing a loved one is the scripture John 5:28,29. It stats " Do not marvel at this, because the hour is coming in which all those in the memorial tombs will hear his voice and come out, those who did good things to a resurrection of life....." Soon we will be able to see Lyn again because God (Jehovah) promises a resurrection hope. Also if you notice that it uses the term "memorial tomb" and not [Grave] which means Gods memory. Lyn seems like a really nice guy, a person that God will definitely remember. I hope this gives some comfort. Dion R (Truth.1914@yahoo.com)

“ We share in your loss of a beloved family member and remember Lyn as a truly good and kind soul. His dedication to family and church helped make the world a better place as he touched others hearts. Though we cannot be with you for the service we will be saying our prayers and rejoice in knowing he is free of the confines of body, now comforted by Lords love.

“ How do you say goodbye to a good friend; one you've shared experiences with since grade school? Lyn's Dad died when Lyn was a young teenager, so he would come over to our neighborhood to join in on the fun we were having. Our gang (consisting of John, Don, Skip, Lyn and myself) would enjoy playing baseball, football in the street, and badminton in our back yard. In the winter we switched to ice hockey and playing cards. My Dad, my brother, Larry, and Lyn and I played a lot of hearts together. We could never agree as to who the champion player was though. Lyn was always a good sport whether he won or lost. He was most always cheerful and friendly and had many friends. As John McCall pointed out in his e-mail, Lyn was a good policeman, husband, and father; but he knew he was not going to heaven because of his own goodness, but because of the Lord's goodness and great sacrifice for him, and for all who believe this truth about Jesus Christ's death and resurrection! This is not good-bye, Lyn; this is we will see you soon! Love, Ken & Ann and Family

“ Karen & Susan, So sorry to hear about your dad's passing. We have lots of memories of him on Wednesday pot luck nights collecting the money for dinner and teaching Dave how to take care of things in his absense. Please find comfort in knowing that he is now with his savior. Unfortunately, we will be in Lake Tahoe for the funeral, but I wanted to send my condolences and let you know that your families will be in my prayers. Love to you all, Vicki

“ Lyn was a fine man and a good Christian. We enjoyed many trips of hunting, fishing, cutting wood, mushroom hunting, and racket ball games. He will be missed. But, precious in the sight of the Lord is the death of his Saints.(Psm 116:15.
