“ To the Family of: Mr. Meryl Clyde Gorton. I'm truly sorry for your loss of your dear loved one. What helps me to cope when losing someone I love is this scripture of many in the Holy Bible- (1Corinthians 15:26) "As the last enemy, death, will be brought to nothing."

“ *Shirley & Family,
I know that nothing can be said to ease your loss right now, but just know that your friends' prayers and thoughts are with you. You and your family have been through so much recently, but you can be comforted in knowing that Clyde and your mom are well and happy now and you can look forward to seeing them again one day.
Cherish your memories!*

“ Shirley and Family - So sorry for your sudden loss and so soon after your Mom's loss. God is not unaware of the timing of all these recent events, but I know He has you in His hands....may He guide, direct and console you through this very difficult time.

Be encouraged and held up through the most wondrous memories you have of your dear husband, Dad, Grandpa, Great-Grandpa.
