“ Our friendship with Mickey and Judy Patrick began as neighbors over a 30 year time span. Three of our five children were Dearborn Press and Guide newspaper carriers and the Patricks were always their favorite customers.

They were always fascinated by Mickey's blue mustang race car they would see in the garage and on the street. All of our children were shocked when I told them Mr. Patrick's father was the voice of Detroit Lions Football and that I listened and watched his radio and TV broadcasts in the early '60's as a kid in Indianapolis.

I will never forget the look on Mickey's face when I brought a newborn grandson, Hunter Van Allen, down to the Patricks' for a visit as their one time paper girl had her first baby. I asked Mickey if he wanted to hold the new baby and he replied that he had never held a less than a week old baby. I said well, "here you go" and put the baby into his arms as quick as a wink. Baby Hunter slept like a baby while Mickey rocked him....a very nice memory!

I was also very appreciative that Mickey nominated me as an inductee into the Dearborn Sports Hall of Fame as recognition of my long distance running accomplishments. He probably saw me running by his house before dawn every morning for over 30 years. Being placed in the Hall of Fame was quite an honor.

God Bless Mickey and Judy!

“ I can never forget being up north with Mickie and friends. And while watching a football game I asked Mickie what other teams he thought would win? He wrote down 8 teams that he liked. 7 of 8 teams lost!! The next day he apologized for being so wrong and I told him I would continue asking his advice concerning the outcome of games because I bet on all of the opposite teams he gave me. He never laughed so hard. God Bless you Mickie and I'm proud to have called you my friend.

I'm going to miss my Pal and his smartass comments directed at me big time.

If he didn't have a nickname that he made up for you, then you were not a close friend. I was proud to be his friend.

As most of you know I became bald right after high school. Mickey was always sympathetic (Right!) for me, so I accepted the baldness quickly. If not for Mic I never would have accepted that I had a lot of face early on.

There is some question that my ancestry may include some Polish blood. Not that there is anything wrong with that but Mic would remind me always and now look at the funeral home he is in (ending in ski). And there you go Mic.

I will never forget how Mic would sit with my parents and just reminisce about anything. My Mom and Dad loved him.

Well Judy, you know him better than anybody and he wants you to be OK.

Remember the good times and we will be here for you if needed.

Love you Judy & Mic.

Mickey and I have lived across the street from each other for many years and we have many things in common.

We both married the girl of our dreams.

We both served in the army.

And we are both very serious Michigan State University fans.

The one major difference between us is I drive a vehicle that is more appropriate for someone our age. His fleet of autos has been known to make our little street vibrate on many occasions. I am not going to mention the time he was driving us on I-96 to East Lansing and he decided to put the pedal to the metal which pinned me to my seat.

Countless times over the years I would mention to my better half that I was going to visit Mickey for a few minutes and 45 minutes later I would arrive back home.

Those great memories of our conversations that solved many of the problems of the world will be with me until I see Mickey again.

I feel fortunate that I had a chance to meet and know Mickey. I never ever saw him in a bad mood, no matter what the circumstances. The stories that he would tell were always riveting. His car collection is one of the best! Rest In Peace my friend.
