“ She is sitting with our mother now, having some tea and catching up, like they did for so many years, once the chores were done. There is great joy in reuniting with her husband Frank. There wasn't an ounce of pretense in either one of them. Truly rare. She walked me to school my first day in first grade at St. Agatha. She was kind and patient with me, eleven years younger. Until she wasn't...when I crossed the line, she let me know it. An experience I am sure her boys had many times, and we are all better men for that experience. She took me to little league games. My last year we came back early from vacation, and had a substitute coach who wasn't expecting me back. When he didn't put me in the game, she gave him hell until he did. I was a little embarrassed, and a lot proud of my big sis. She watched over us younger kids like a second mom. Nobody can have too many moms. If ever a woman deserved to Rest In Peace, it's my sister Nancy. Fare thee well, Nanc. You have indeed fought the good fight, finished the course. I for one will never forget the example of simple honesty and caring you set every day

“ I worked with Nancy at Sajewski Funeral Home on W. Warren, I loved it when I saw her walking up to the front door to come in. She was such a lovely person, who will be dearly missed. Rest in peace Nancy.

“ My most sincere sympathy for your families loss. I too knew your mom from SS Peter and Paul. She struck me as being a very caring and helpful person. She loved her family, it was obvious. May God Bless her soul and give her eternal peace.

These are wonderful memories/pictures! How fast the years have gone by. I first met Nancy in 1975 when I was engaged/married to her brother, David Ley. Our families grew and we celebrated birthdays, church events, dinners at Shields, and lots of family things. I hope you are chatting it up with Frank, your parents and brothers---Dave, Bob, and John. God speed, Nancy. Blessings to your wonderful boys---you did a great job raising them.

Love from Gail Ley

Nancy was 15 when I was born and since she was the only girl with 4 brothers, she was (she always told me) very excited when I was born.

She was a wonderful big sister. She brought me my first pair of ice skates and helped me learn to skate. She brought my younger sister, Grace, and I our first two-wheel bikes. I will never forget the sense of freedom and adventure that bike added to my life.

She also spent a lot of time with us and took us to do a lot of fun things: drive-in movies in the summer and the cider mill in the fall. At Christmas time, she would drive us to downtown Detroit to see what at that time were the beautiful holiday displays at Hudsons and other stores. She took us to Boblo, the Michigan State Fair, and the Ice Capades/Follies. Most of the time, she was the one who took us to church on Sunday and out to breakfast after.

Nancy is responsible for many of my best childhood memories.

From the day I was born until the day she died, Nancy loved me and I loved her. And my life has been better for it.
