“ I met Randy the first time when I was in high school. He was at WMHS Band Camp and had the "honor" of working with the orchestra kids who'd come to camp to fill in the extra spaces. We were a ragtag group...a few violins, a few violas, a clarinet...not really an "orchestra." But that didn't stop Randy. He wrote an original arrangement of a medley of JCSS songs tailored precisely to our group. It was superb and we played the heck out of that piece! I had the privilege later in life to meet Randy again at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church. He was a different man in many respects, but he still had that same "left of center" attitude I'd respected so much. I considered Randy a friend, and I will miss knowing he's out there sharing his music and his passion with others. Maryann and Joey...my condolences and my prayers are with you. I miss you both, and am sorry I didn't learn about Randy's passing in time to share my thoughts in person. May God's light and love surround you now and always. With love...Karissa

“ Mary Anne: We were so sorry to hear about Randy's passing. What a wonderful and talented man. Felt so fortunate to have talked to him several weeks ago at John Archer's memorial service. Randy did his usual wonderful job at the organ. We truly miss his music at our church but know that he'll be playing for all of our family up in heaven. We'll be praying for you and your family. Stay strong and close to your children. Know that Randy is in a beautiful place making beautiful music. Diane & Ken

“ Our family fondly remembers Randy Blouse. Growing up on Hazelwood Street, Randy was a great role model whether he was hurdling over shrubs, practicing piano or just being the happy funny guy that he was. “ Dear Mr. Blouse, Terry, Mary Anne and family, Randy became my brother-in-law when I was 13. He was funny and caused great laughter for my little brother, Bill, and me. We still talk about things he said to delight us. I married into a huge family and now have many brothers-in-law. Randy will always be my favorite. He was very good to us. We loved him very much. So sorry for your loss.

“ Just so sorry. No great words of wisdom can console a broken heart, Mary Anne, but I have been comforted by remembering a particular quote from William Penn: "They that love beyond the world cannot be separated by it and death cannot kill what never dies." I know I am joining dozens of classmates from both JGHS and WMHS to offer our love and continuing prayers for you as the family works through the hard work of healing. (((Mary Anne & Family)))

“ My deepest sympathy for your loss. Randy was always kind and generous with his time and talents. He will be greatly missed. Heaven has just received an excellent pianist. Do you think he'll learn the harp? His wit and sense of humor will be the thing I remember most. Please be kind to yourselves, take care of yourselves and remember good memories. I'm sure you have many. Rest in Peace, Randy. The music in heaven has just improved!!!

“ Derek & Lisa Deman

We have been neighbors with Randy and Mary Anne since 1996 in Westland. One of our favorite memories is when Randy would go on his front porch after the ball would drop on New Years and play on the trumpet Old Ang Zine. I also once went to see my nephew perform a high school play in Ypsilanti it was Beauty and the Beast I was amazed at the piano playing and I was floored to see Randy behind the piano performing the score. It was beautifully done.

“ Randy’s loss brings much sadness to all who knew and loved him. May the family find comfort in Jesus’ resurrection promise at John 5:28 there he says: “The time is coming when all those who are dead and buried will hear his [God’s] voice and out they will come...” My heartfelt wish is that this message of hope brings the family peace

“ Not only was Mr. Blouse my accompanist for Solo and Ensemble Festival, but he was so much more than that. He knew just how to better my playing as a musician and performer. He was a gifted man and will be dearly missed. Mr Blouse, it was an honor to have known you, and I thank you for everything you did for me.

Andrew Roberts - December 12, 2014 at 10:13 AM

“ I remember when my mother died how odd it seemed that the world would just go on and engage in its quotidian trivialities when such a disaster had happened in my world. People would come on the radio and laugh at banalities. Others would get exercised and argue over nothing. Eventually I got over it until my father died five years later. Then I had to work my way back to the world through a similar process. Now my friend Randy Blouse has passed. May God's light shine on him forever and may the glories of the celestial music be his for eternity! But right now, tonight, and probably for a few weeks, it is going to be difficult to just go about regular life in anything close to regular feeling about things. Luckily, I have a marvelous family. A patient and loving wife. Six great kids with wonderful spouses. And three glorious grandkids. They make life seem a lot brighter when all I can see right now is a big dark hole in my life where Randy was residing. Yes, I have marvelous memories of him - even the painful ones - and we were lucky to start playing together the past few years. But we were looking forward to doing much more. And now, that will have to wait until we are reunited on the other side of the veil. Mary Anne, as much as we who were his friends hurry, nothing can compare to your loss. We will do what we can to support you and help your family. A week ago, after we had rehearsed two of the Hungarian dances by Brahms we were going to perform at the end of next month, the last thing he told me was a joke I really liked. I had been sharing it to good effect. A man comes out of the woods carrying a bucket. A game warden asks him what he has. The man says, "A bucket of fish." The warden looks in the bucket and says that he is over the limit for the daily catch and he will have to fine the man. The man replies, "You misunderstand, sir! These are not fish I just caught. These are pet fish. I train them. I brought them from home and put them in the lake to let them swim. Then I whistle and they come back and jump into the bucket and we were just returning home." The warden says this is something he has to see. They go to the lake and the man dumps the bucket into the water. After they watch for a bit the warden says, "Ok, it has been long enough. Whistle and bring the fish back." The man replies, "What fish?" Thanks, Randy. A large number of us are aching at losing your friendship and the wonderful experiences we each had with you. The hole in our lives feels so large because your place in our lives was both hugely significant and wonderful. Rest with God, our dear friend.

“ Please my condolences to Randy's Family. Many many years ago Randy took me under genius musical Wing and taught me how to truly appreciate all that Music stands for. He taught me not only to understand music, but to also express myself musically through my Trumpeting. Without Randy guiding me, I never would have ever reached the levels in music that I did. Bless you Randy.

“ My most heartfelt condolences to Mary Anne and the families. Randy will truly be missed not only as a humanitarian, but, by the music community that he so often shared his talents, and passion of music. I will miss his presence at Solo & Ensemble festivals. As he accompanied so many students as I would be adjudicating at these events. I recall so many fond memories, both being in the JGHS orchestra, Symphonic/Wind Ensemble, The John Glenn "Rocket" Marching Band, pep band and Camp Tanuga. One evening, as I recall, I overheard this trumpet player warming up behind the stage as I am in the audience waiting for the Saginaw Symphony to perform(late 70's). . . yep, I ran back stage to see if it was him. Same warm-up he used in high school. Some things never change. I'm glad my nephews had the opportunity to know him through the music program at Wayne Memorial. Both spoke about him with high regards; just amazed at his skills on the keyboard. No words could ever bring much comfort at this time; except, knowing he's accompanying the choir of heavenly angels above . “ Dear Mary Ann and family, I found out last night that Randy was gone, and felt that my heart had been wrenched from my being. Randy was one of the most brilliant, talented, sweet persons I've ever known--such an incredible musician, so sharing, such a gifted teacher. I am so grateful to have recently connected with him again. May the memories and love that surround you help to carry you through these times of loss--the heavens will sound ever more brightly at his presence. “ So many great "Randy" memories and stories. Took piano instruction from him Through high school and as a Junior in high school asked him to help me learn enough to play in the marching band. He did this but looked for more, encouraging me to play in solo ensemble eventually earning a blue ribbon at state level. Never forgot those lessons, part music lesson, part music theory part philosophy and part humor. Or when he told my father I needed a better trumpet. He dropped by to test drive the used instrument the salesman brought to the house. No discussion, just took the Bach from the case, mouthpiece from his pocket and played prodigiously a short solo. Salesman's jaw dropped and he was speechless. Randy turned to my dad and said "it'll work fine" and left. Classic. And my sisters graduation party. Played piano while my great uncle Sal. sang old opera tunes. And when we went to see Oscar Peterson play the Hill before I graduated then as a special treat, stopped to visit his friend Bart at the Gandy Dancer to enjoy some cocktail piano. Great man. Great teacher. Great times. My condolences

“ To the Blouse family: I don't even know how to start. I am just so sorry for your loss. In the past couple years, we lost our Pana and our Aunt Gloria. For some reason, I was always very comforted to see Randy at the viewings. He just had this kind of anchoring presence about him that made me feel better in those times. Less than a month ago, I had the privilege of feeling that comfort at my aunt's viewing. For the last time. I never would have dreamt that this would happen so soon. It both broke my heart and made me smile a bit to hear that he was at his piano. To pass away while doing what you love is rare, but I am sure there is no way that would have been more fitting for him. Randy's music was simply beautiful. When I first heard the piece he wrote for Joey, I knew he always played with his family in his heart. When you start to miss him, remember you will see him again, when you are greeted in the afterlife by the most beautiful-sounding chorus heaven has ever seen. :) I love you all and again, I am so sorry.

“ I have known Randy Blouse and his family for my entire life. He and his wife Mary Anne went to school with my parents, as my siblings and I went to school with their children. Randy watched my younger sister and I after school when we were little, and as the years went by he became our substitute music teacher, as well as filling in when our band director was ill. I have been to many of Randy's chorus performances, and was always met with a performance of utmost excellence. Randy was a true performer of more than just music; he could make you laugh, he could make you think, he could make you feel. He could not only gain your attention, but he could hold it and shape it as long as he had your ear, keeping the thoughts going long after you had parted ways. I learned so much from this man, and along with all the other lives that he has touched through his music and teaching, will never forget how truly lucky I am to have known him. For Randy's family: he loved you all so much. His eyes would light up whenever he spoke of any of you. I am reminded of my last conversation I had with him at my Aunt Gloria's funeral visitation. I asked him simply how Joey was doing, and could hear the pride in his voice as he told me all about what Joey was doing and Joey's promotions and accomplishments. That was Randy's biggest accomplishment... his family. My heart goes out to you, his family in this difficult time. I love you all, and am never far away if you need anything.

“ My deepest sympathy and condolences to MaryAnn and the family. This is a terrible and shocking loss..... I've known Randy since the first grade, and he was always smart and funny and kind and extremely talented. I'm very happy to meet up again with Randy and MaryAnn at our reunion, and now I'm very grateful for that last chance to see him and catch up. “ I am overcome by sadness. It was such a treat to reconnect with Randy and MaryAnne at our recent class reunion. He seemed healthy and happy that evening.
I was struck, then, at how little he had changed and how our perceptions of each other had remained intact after some 35 years. As we stood to take our class picture at the reunion, he reminded me of how he forfeited his standing as Salutatorian to instead walk between Jim Williams and me to accept his diploma in 1972, much further down the line.
That's what kind of a loyal and meaningful friend he was.
Rest in peace, Randy. You have served your friends well, and you will forever be loved.

Flash forward 30 years when I attended a Christmas Eve service with my grandmother at a neighborhood church.
