“ Over the past few days, I've been reminiscing about when we were much younger. Recycling newspapers, selling cords of wood, and a blue flat-bed Ford truck held together by gray duct tape; Sunday morning brunches, Princess and Duchess, Halloween trick-or-treating in your neighborhood, haunted houses at the K of C on the fun side of the tour while he sold tickets downstairs, pinball and mini-bowling in the larger lounge area, Michigan football games and tailgating, the CB radio in the living room, fishing and hunting trips, boating, tobogganing down the hill by the barn with a snow fort/igloo and bonfires, pony rides at his in-laws and helping his aunt move, early morning rises to travel to an out of state amusement park, confirmation classes in eighth grade, Detroit Tiger baseball games with the Knights, and Monte Clark and the Lions on TV, hobo dinner and other theme nights, Ox Roasts on Labor Day, watching the Enterprise in early reruns when it was just starting to be cool, riding to Grand Haven for a wedding, and every December watching and remembering how the “Bumbles bounce!” to start off the Christmas Holiday season.

These are just a few of the memories from those years that have been replaying in my head. What a way to grow up, and he was a major player in it. He can never be truly gone after creating memories like these in as many people that his life touched, as they will live in us, and we try to share that with others.

Our deepest sympathies on the loss of the last founding member of NAH. It's comforting to think of the reunion he's having with his co-founders now. Sending you all our love, thoughts, and prayers during this difficult time.
