“ I am a Minister of Jehovah's Witnesses my wife and I would like to give you and your family our deepest sympathy for the lost of your loved one. We would like to leave you with these words of encouragement from Gods word the Bible. At Job 14:14 it ask the question, "If a man dies, shall he live again?," The bible makes the promise: Your dead love ones will live...They will rise up. The bible also says, The righteous themselves will possess the earth and they will reside forever upon it. Isaiah 26:19;Psalms 37:29. May you find comfort in these scriptures and in the loving memories of your loved one. If you have any questions or concerns about the lost of your loved one feel free to email us at ctksdk@yahoo.com
Sincerely, Carlos & Sandy

“ I can't express how sorry I am for your loss and your whole family is in my thoughts. Everyone always says "If you need anything, please don't hesitate" and though we mean well, we know that there's nothing we can do to ease your pain. I do mean it though, you were all a part of my family for many, many years and if there's anything at all I can do for you, please don't hesitate. I always liked Robbie because I saw him as being very high spirited and not afraid to go after what he wanted. I saw a guy who walked to the beat of his own drum. That's a rare and precious quality.

One of my very earliest memories of Robbie is the very first Christmas when I met most of the family for the first time. He was shooting baskets at the end of the hall and Starr Lynn wanted his attention very badly and he kept running away saying that he didn't want "girl germs". I think that made Starr Lynn more determined because she started running up to him and touching him and calling out "Girl germs Robbie! Girl germs!". I found the typical 10 year old look of disgust he got to be absolutely hilarious and that memory stuck with me the most through the years. I think that's why he's always been Robbie to me rather than Rob...I've always remembered the disgusted 10 year old that didn't want his cousin's "girl germs".

Memories are what form most of our lives so I hope you find comfort in the good ones. Hold on to them dearly because Robbie will live on forever in them.

“ Rob, you may be gone too soon from your short lifetime here on earth, but you will never be forgotten as we can assure you we live now to keep our memories of you alive for your children. Each Christmas as we gather as a family you will be on our minds and in our hearts. My favorite memories of you will always be of you as a little boy when I used to babysit "So Big," and we spent time together playing with your toys and watching your favorite movies, of the time I took you swimming for hours in the Holiday Park pool and your fair skin was sun kissed afterward, of our trips to Chuck E. Cheese...and then of you when you grew into a young man and came home after your Navy boot camp in your dress uniform for Christmas at Grandma and Grandpa's clubhouse and we all just beamed with pride in your accomplishment, as well as of you as a father, in the extraordinary role of Mr. Mom, taking your own adorable children swimming at that same Holiday Park pool. The more I get to know your children the better I understand why you loved your job as their dad so very much, because they are truly beautiful and very special little kids.

I know you are in a better place now, where our beloved grandfather and uncle Roger were there to welcome you into heaven for eternal rest and peace. We will always love you for the boy you were with that curly, tousled hair, and for the amazing man you became in the Navy, as a bright-minded college graduate, as a husband and as a father. You will be missed so much today and our hearts will be heavy in your absence, so we ask for prayers and thoughts from anyone reading this to lift us up and help us through it all as well as through the difficult days ahead. Most of all Rob I want you to know that I only wish I had told you all of this before you were gone from this world and told you how much I always loved you. We will miss you so much words my words can't even convey those sentiments on one page. I only hope you knowing it now brings a smile to your face that lights up all of heaven...rest in the peace of Christ dear cousin.
