“ *Dear Uncle Bob,
The Angels rejoiced when you were called home. You were the whole package, kind, loving, always smiling and welcoming. I am one lucky niece to have been able to call you uncle. Watch over Aunt Pat, Tina, Troy, Brandon and the rest of your loving and grieving family. You will be missed. Love and deepest heartfelt condolences to you Aunt Pat and family as you navigate this new normal. You will be on my mind and in my heart always.

“ Bob what can't I say? You & Pat came into my world 30 years ago. We've literally shared laughter, tears, broken bread, helped one another out of jams...you know, Life & Love. You Bob Taylor, are the warmest, kindest, quietest soul I know I've ever met. Never a bad thing to say. You've always been so easy to love. I loved you as soon as I got to know you...who wouldn't. We'll be around when our time comes, playing canasta, listening to oldies, and, ordering take-out. Thank you for helping me through some tough stuff recently, & just being you. Tom & I Love you Robert Taylor. George

“ Dear Pappy, I'll never be able to articulate in words how much you meant to me... You've always been one of the greatest role models in my life & my #1 fan... You taught me how to be loving, kind, and most of all strong. I watched you battle cancer for eight long years, and never once did you think about yourself. You always had a smile on your face, and had some smartass remark to make....I'm so glad that we share the same sense of humor. You were the backbone to this family, and will be greatly missed. Though we weren't blood-related you never made me feel like I was anything less than your grandson... I couldn't have asked for a better Grandpa. I love you so damn much, rest easy Pap
xoxo Brandon
