“ Sally always opened up her home to others. On more than one occasion she invited me to a holiday gathering/family function when she didn't have to. Russ and Sally knew me only because their son married my sister.

I remember one Easter in particular many years ago. I had intended on spending the holiday alone but she opened her arms and home to me. With five children and their families, she didn't need another guest to worry about, but she did. I remember the dining room table was exquisitely set for the large group. And a beautifully painted, ceramic Easter egg was at the place setting of every young lady as a keepsake. What a thoughtful and lovely touch. I still proudly display that egg every Spring and fondly remember that special day and special woman.

God Bless.
