“ I wish to extend my condolences to the Jiordano family, and share one particularly happy recollection. I hope this brings a smile. Sandy was my neighbor up the street, and on occasion, babysat me -- she was sweet to "tolerate" my silly antics. I have fond memories of her, but one stands out for its significance. Sandy created my Halloween costume in 1985, I believe --a Cyndi Lauper inspired skirt - all the rage that year.

This childhood memory is a gift, and I still have that skirt someplace in the Fenton house where my parents reside. I feel somewhat silly sharing this, but that skirt (and Sandy) inspired a chubby, vulnerable and awkward 10 year old to appear at a school dance with confidence and pride -- and I felt invincible. That single gesture, even now, brings back that feeling -- thank you, Sandy.

I am so sorry to learn this news, and extend my warmest wishes and prayers. I hope my silly story will, in time, inspire as great a smile as it brings to me. Sandy was a lovely girl.

With my warmest regards,

*Cindy Szegedy
(and for the Szegedy family)*

“ Sandy, you were always a good friend of mine through school. And when we started talking again a few years ago it was like there was never time lost between us. We were cut from similar cloths and that is why we had a good bond. Thanks for all the great,crazy times. That's for always having my back. Thanks for spring break and mrs kunemans child care class antics. Thanks for listening, caring and for always being my friend. I'll miss you buddy. Give Vicki Jo a hug for me. I know you two are together now. I'll miss you. Until we meet again.....

“ With Deepest Sympathy. I have fond memories of the times hanging out in your backyard, swimming in the kiddie pools, hiding in the bunk beds from the boys and most famously known for hiding behind the curtains when your dad (Skip) came home.
