“ 3 years, Grandma. Can't wait to see you again. We love you.

Anna - December 12, 2014 at 10:28 AM

“ HAPPY BIRTHDAY MOM I MISS YOU, LOVE YOU AND THINK ABOUT YOU EVERY DAY

Jeanne - December 12, 2014 at 10:28 AM

“ I still come back to look, to read and to remember. Mom you are never far from my thoughts, I miss you so much. What I wouldn't give for just one more day. I love you mom

Jeanne - December 12, 2014 at 10:28 AM

“ We still miss you every single day.

“ It's been a month mom and I still do not believe that you are gone. There isn't one part of me that has accepted it, I don't know how. There isn't one minute of one day that I don't miss you. We are using the strength and the family bonds that you gave us to help each other through the pain and sadness.

We have laughed remembering how you could get us in line with just a look. Gary and I needed no words when we saw that look. You know mom the one that Kevin and Anna swear we make up because Grandma never showed it to them!!!!!!

We love you mom and we all miss you like crazy. You are always with us and will be forever, we will never stop missing you. I love you mom.

“ I worked with Theresa many years ago at Kmart International Headquarters. We worked in HR together. She was my Boss for a few years. She was always fair and kind. Just looking at these pictures puts a smile on my face. Seems like a life time ago, yet it also seems like yesterday. God Bless

“ I have never met someone like you. You are the most genuine and caring person that I have ever known. Very few people can have an everlasting impression. You are one of them. Thank you for coming into my life and bringing happiness to those around you. You will be missed dearly but thought about often. I can hear that laugh right now as I'm writing this.

I miss you very much. Thank you for touching my heart and my soul. I love you and God bless you.

“ *To the living, I am gone.
To the sorrowful, I will never return.
To the angry, I was cheated.
But to the happy, I am at peace.
And to the faithful, I have never left.
I cannot speak, but I can listen.
I cannot be seen, but I can be heard.*

*So as you stand upon a shore, gazing at a beautiful sea,
Remember me.*

*As you look upon a flower, and admire its simplicity,
Remember me.*

*Remember me in your hearts, your thoughts and your memories,
The times we loved,
The times we cried,
The times we fought,
The times we laughed.*

*For if you always think of me,
I will never be gone.*

“ Aunt Joyce was a wonderful person and I am lucky to have an Aunt like her. Like my family mentioned already, Christmas will not be the same. I have spent every Christmas I can remember at her house and always had a wonderful time. I loved to sit at the table and talk with her. She was very intelligent and insightful and always had interesting topics to discuss. I'll never forget the Grinch outfit and the coloring contest. Thanks for the memories Aunt Joyce. We love you...

“ I find it very ironic that both my best friend (Anna) and I had grandparetns taken away from us too early. Grandma surely had plenty of years left in her life, as did my grandpa. I am going to miss her so much. I can remember her from the time I was 5. She has not only been my best friends grandma, but a grandma to me as well. All of the sleepovers Anna and I would have at her house. Her beating us in scrabble everytime we played. Trips to Old Orchard Beach, Maine. Those were especially my favorite and so many more memories.

She was one to welcome anyone into her heart and family. I felt like I was one of her own grandchildren everytime I was around her. I will miss her and keep her in my heart forever! Love, Monica

AN

“ Grandma only wanted us to be happy. Everything she did was to benefit those around her. Her enjoyment came from seeing her family succeed in life.

If I could ever imagine a person to be flawless, Grandma was it. As my dad said, "she not only talked the talk, but she walked it too." She knew all of the directions of the 'right way', and she guided us through her lessons and actions. And if we didn't do something the right way-believe me, we knew about it.

I will miss her most sitting at the kitchen table and taking walks. Although I rarely got a word or two into our conversations, I treasure everything she said to me. Her little legs walked SO fast, it was always hard for me to keep up with her! (Even though I towered over her by a good 8 inches)

I will also miss her in the kitchen. I cannot remember a time that I walked into my Grandma's house and her second question wasn't "What do you want to eat?" (After 'how are you?' of course)

Christmas will never be the same, for she was the center of our family. We will honor her by laughing, cooking (Italian), succeeding, and always doing the right thing.

She was the kind of woman who God would take on Christmas Day. There isn't a second that goes by that I don't miss her and her beautiful smile.

“ Mom I still can not believe you are gone. How can someone so full of life and love be gone at such a young age? You have always been the strength and the pillar of our family. We laughed, we loved and when we got out of hand well you knew how to deal with that too.

There are so many memories that we all have to carry with us. I guess what I want you to know is that you will always be with us. You will be with us at all the weddings to come, the new babies we welcome into our family and let us not forget my big 50 coming up very soon.

You gave us the strength to go on, the love to carry us through and a family bond that not time or distance can destroy. We love you and will miss you forever you are in my heart from now untill forever. I love you and miss you like crazy mom. Fly free and be happy mom.

“ Dear Uncle Ted, So many years have past, the lost years, but we had to let you know you and your kids are in our thoughts and prayer's. Aunt Joyce was a kind and beautiful person. We think our Mom would want us to let you know that we never forgot how good you were to us kids. Aunt Joyce passing on Christmas day will never be forgotten and God just decided to take one of his angel's home. Remain close to your kids, and we know Aunt Joyce will walk with you until you meet again. May God keep you's under his wing and give you strength in this time of need. All six of us send you our love and prayers and deepest sympathy. Love, Albert, Mickey, Sylvia, Sparky, Theresa, and Pammy.

“ Christmas will never be the same for our family. For just about as long as we can remember, Christmas meant going to Joyce's house for dinner. It seems so ironic that she left us on Christmas Day.

We'll always miss her energy and spirit, but never more than on Christmas. She was the heart of the family.
