“ Would that I could have shared a personal memory of William Bruce "Bill" Huff, 47, when attending his recent memorial service. Unfortunately, our paths had crossed briefly only twice, as I recall, at the 2003 and 2011 funerals of mutual kinfolk. But, I would like to share, belatedly, a little about Bill's paternal ancestry with others who may, or may not, know that he was born into the vast and remarkable Studebaker family in America. From Studebaker to Huff? No secret--nuclear family dynamics. Bill's a 9th generation descendant in a line of Studebaker males via John Bruce, Bruce Franklin, William Leroy, Howard Franklin, William Leidy, Samuel, Peter B. to Clement, one of three known "Stutenbecker" males to have immigrated to America in 1736.

First cousins, one generation removed, Bill's and my common Studebaker ancestor is the 6th generation William Leroy (1883-1936). His sons were Bill's grandfather, Bruce Franklin (1907-1972) and my father Burton Fenmore (1909-1962). Not a close-knit family growing up, unfortunately, but Uncle Bruce did introduce his niece to the Studebaker Family National Association and I soon learned about my lineage and our connection to the Studebaker wagon and automobile company that existed for more than 100 years. Knowing my Studebaker ancestry eventually prompted me to legally resume use of my maiden name many years ago. And, as an SFNA Board member since 1999 and passionate genealogist I've focused on the Clement line of 30,000+ currently documented descendants and spouses, with and without the Studebaker surname.

Rest in peace, my dear young cousin with the big, beautiful smile and huge, warm-hearted countenance, among your Studebaker kin in heaven knowing that you will be forever remembered on earth.
