“ Hi.

I am a widow, and a Christian. Widowed 13 years, and still going through the papers. Today I was blessed to find a copy of a magazine called, kindred spirit. And in that magazine from fall, 1984, was an article by W Ross Rainey about God's guide to good eating. I was thoroughly blessed and encouraged by the article, and I'm confident that the man who wrote it knew exactly what he was talking about when he did. I am sorry for your loss, and wanted you to know that he touched my life even though I never met him.

“ Paul and Family...

I am so sorry to learn of the passing of your father. I know that he is in heaven with Larry and they are in great company. The sadness and loss of the physical presence of those we love remains a very difficult task because sometimes, even though you are grateful for all you have, you don't realize how their presence completes you. It is something you never understand until you lose it and flounder around trying to figure out why you no longer feel whole. You dad was a good man, he raised a great son and I am sincerely sorry for your loss. Prayers for you and the family.

“ Ross was truly a man of God! He was a gifted preacher, and a good friend, he will be sorely missed by all at Dearborn Chapel.
